

FATAL ACCIDENT AT ST.
ALBANS.

A sad accident happened at St. Albans on Friday evening, by which a young man named Patrick Gimane, 19 years of age, lost his life. He went to a pit for the purpose of procuring a load of sand, and while he was working underneath, the top came down, burying him. A boy who was with him ran away for help, but by the time it reached him Gimane was dead. The body was removed to the Footscray morgue on Friday night, and an inquest will be held this morning.
